Topic: ‘Numbers bigger than the infinite. Yes, they exist.’

DATE: 18th November, 2019

COLLABORATION : Tata Literature Live!

CHIEF GUEST: Prof. Piers Bursill- Hall

BRIEF NOTE ON CHIEF GUEST: Piers is Mathematics Faculty at Cambridge University, lecturing on history of mathematics and history of science. He has lectured in Europe, North America, South Asia and the Far East on a range of topics to do with history of mathematics and its culture. His research has ranged over past mathematics from pre-Euclidean proof theory and geometry, ancient astronomy, Renaissance engineering, the changing status of mathematics in the Renaissance, and Enlightenment mathematics. Recently he has also become interested in early Islamic science, and is currently co-authoring a book on ethics in mathematics.

GUEST OF HONOUR: Prof. Sri Gopala Krishna Dani

BRIEF NOTE ON GUEST OF HONOUR: Prof. S G Dani is a Shanti Swarup Bhatnagar Prize recipient and is eminent pure mathematicians who is also well-known for his several works in exploring History of Mathematics.

ABOUT THE TALK: The talk was focussed around various sizes of infinity. Prof. Bursill-Hall used simple ideas and examples to explain different meanings of the word ‘infinite’ thereby leading to concepts of countable and uncountable infinite sets. He also discussed about various opportunities available for mathematics students in University of Cambridge apart from addressing their questions related to talk.

Thursday Nov 14 & Monday Nov 18, 2019

Monday, 18th Nov, 2019, 10am-11am

Numbers bigger than the infinite. Yes, they exist, and the infinite is a lot smaller than you thought. A mathematical talk about some ideas that everyone can understand.

Venue: SIWS College, Wadala

Piers Bursill-Hall was educated in France, America, Canada, and England and has spent most of his academic life in the Department of Pure Mathematics at Cambridge. He has taught undergraduate courses in history of mathematics and most aspects of history of science at Cambridge and elsewhere. Despite an irrepressible sense of humour, he is, however, serious about scholarship and teaching. He believes that lectures should be lectures, and does not use PowerPoint. His research and teaching has concentrated on history of Ancient, Renaissance, and Enlightenment science, mathematics and mathematical arts, the history of medicine, and more recently on early Islamic mathematics and science

WORKSHOP ON “WIRED SOCCER ROBOT”

Science Association & Department of Mathematics

TITLE OF ACTIVITY: Workshop on Wired Soccer Robot

OBJECTIVE:

- To create Robots or make things that can move through a remote control.
- To know the application of Robots in different areas.

DATE: 11th February 2017

ABOUT WORKSHOP: A one-day workshop on “Wired Soccer Robot” in association with the Celtic Learning Solutions was organized. Students were taught the basic robot technology by building their own controllable robot with an LED light, five motors and five joints. Robotic Arm gripper using the wired controller to open, close, reach, rotate, grab, and release was demonstrated. Participants were very excited when the robots which they made with expert supervision were put to motion.

NO. OF PARTICIPANTS: 37

OUTCOME:

- Students learnt about the mechanics, by the way of the motion of robots and different parts of it. This made the way for the learning of various physical and mathematical concepts.
- Students learnt to build the logic behind its design and connecting it to the applications that it needs to perform.
